THOSE WHO MANAGED AFFAIRS.

Pres. William J. Wheeler, South Paris;
vice-president, Leslie E. McIntire, East
Waterford; secretary and treasurer, W.
O. Frothingham, South Paris; trustees,
C. W. Bowker, South Paris; Edward W.
Penley, West Paris; J. W. Carter, Bethel.
W. H. Kilgore, North Waterford, T. R.
Richardson, Norway; division superintendents of grounds, W. J. Wheeler;
stock, E. W. Penley, L. E. McIntire, J.
H. Carter; horses, W. H. Kilgore, T. P.
Richardson; hall, C. W. Bowker; committees, division superintendent.

Secretary Frothingham is our Oxford County sheriff. He had no less than six of his deputies on the grounds, and there were plain clothes men constantly on the watch for crooks. Secretary Frothingham was assisted in his office by E. H. Horrick Robert Wheeler, Stanley Wheeler and William Frothingham. In the ticket department was Mrs. Lizzie Edgley and Winfield Starbird.

SWINE.

The Swine department held its usual
good quality of stock. Among the exhibitors were found Fernald L. Keen of Oxford who had a white Chester boar,
aged one year and another four months
old. R. and S. I. Jackson of Norway had a white Chester boar. F. A. Cooper of South Paris showed his three year old white Chester boar. Alfred King of South Paris had his large Yorkshire
boar. T. T. Knightly of South
Paris showed his Hampshire boar. J.
W. S. Colby of South Paris had one two year old Hampshire boar and one, two and one-half year old sows with pigs.
J. A. Thurlow of South Paris had his Chester sow with five pigs. A. A. J.
kins of Paris exhibited his two year old
Hampshire sow with pigs.

A little different breed of pigs was found in the Mule foot swine. Laura Tolman of Harrison was the only exhibitor in this breed which included a nine months old boar, a sow, nine months old with five pigs, three weeks old and a pair of pigs four months old.

The Oxford County Agricultural Society purchased 2450 tin plates of five different sizes on which to display the fruit.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

Wednesday there were probably 20,000
people on the fair grounds and more than 1,000 autos. Besides the autos on the grounds they were outside everywhere. Never in all the years that the writer has attended this fair was there so little drunkenness visible. Even the woods back of the cattle sheds were free.

As A. N. Stanley of Cumberland Conter was coming with a party to attend
the fair, he was running his auto behind another, the front auto stopped suddenly on a hill between Norway and Oxford and Mr. Stanley was unable to stop his car before the impact came, although he saw what was inevitable, and reversed
the brakes, but the front end of the front end of the Stanley car was completely demolished, so his party were obliged to return by train. The occupants of the front car were thrown out, but fortunatel-ly nobody was injured.

The effort to make the Oxford County Fair clean is much appreciated by the citizens. Several men were brought before Judge Jones, at the Municipal Court Wednesday morning on account of sale of liquor and fined $20 and costs, which were paid.

The Bliss Business College of Lewiston was represented. Prof. Bliss himself was on the grounds and on many a boy he played a blue and gold banner representing his famous school.

A number of improvements have been made upon the grounds, among them being a new cattle barn running north from the hay barn, where formerly was an open tie-up and containing 25 double stalls, which will shelter 50 additional head of stock. There were also some new sheep pens in addition to the old ones; also a new watering tub.

The E. H. Fellows show included this year the following people: Mr. and Mrs.
E. H. Fellows, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Fellows, Mrs. Hortense Murch, Mr. and Mrs.
Guy Hunt, Mr. William Fellows, Harry Silver, Wayne Gray, Oliver Martell, Hubert Rich, Verne Rich, Ralph Haley and William Hinkley. Their next stand is Brattleborough, Vt., with many other fall dates to fill.

Kid Brown of 48 Lincoln street, Lewiston, a wrestler of local fame kept throwing challenges into the Stinson Athletic Show bunch during Wednesday. Freddie Gurney of the show seemed to be the man
the kid was gunning for, offering all sort of money inducement. Brown is a solid chap, weighing one hundred and forty pounds with an ability to back up
all offers so his supporters assert.

The automobile gate was cared for by Merritt Welch and Harry Kimball of Norway; William Abbott of South Paris
and J. S. Burbank of Bethel collected past boards at the main gate; Walter Bonney and E. F. McDonald of South
Paris cared for the small entrance; Mrs.
E. F. Edgerly, W. S. Starbird, Walter
Gray esq, Robert Wheeler and H. L. Lowell, all of South Paris occupied the ticket windows. Ernest H. Herrick and Frank S. Clark were the able assistants at the official headquarters.

Dr. Glover's All American Shows was purely an animal and freak exhibit largelly patronized. The large collection of interesting curiosities included a twolegged, cold which lived but three hours.
This freak had no breast bones and the ribs were abnormal, running up the neck nearly to the head. A three featured well developed calf with bull dog head, hog's feet and screw tail proved a strong attraction. The Great Central American Mummy having two heads, four arms
and legs, brought to this country by Dr.
Wilson of Albany, N. H., who estimates its age to be at least 2000 years old, made a curious exhibit. An alligator, Angora Guinea pig, raccoon, black bear cub and other small animals were included in the show. Dr. Glover of Oxford was the inside lecturer. C. H. Greenleaf of Madison did the spelling from the front and Mrs. Glover sold tickets.

E. C. Parker of Norway and Orin Stiles of Greenwood handled the upper gate across the track; Walter Anderson and Frank La France cared for the lower gate; Edward Richardson of Norway
and Donald Chapman of South Paris sold grand stand tickets and George La-France collected the same. Edward J.
Burnell of Norway was general utility,
fitting in anywhere.

A new scheme for numbering the racers
was used this year and received favorably. Large black figures on white canvas placed across the back of each horse
could be easily read from both stands, proving itself to be far ahead of the old system. Dr. Chas. Fogg looked after this work as in many years past.

DRAWING OXEN ANY SIZE.

The oxen drawing drew a good sized crowd and the drawing proved very interesting. The lead weighed 5000 on the drag. R. K. Morrill & Son of Norway had three yoke in this class. One yoke pulled the load 40 feet, the second yoke 39 feet, 6 inches, and the third pulled it 30 feet and C. S. Hayes of Oxford pulled it 27 feet, 6 inches.

Oxen 6 ft. 6 in. and Under.
Weight of load 2920. Herbert Bisbee of East Sumner had a yoke of four year old Durhams, pulled load 128 feet, one inch. A. B. Sturtevant of Hebron, oxen pulled 125 feet 11 inches. C. R. Wilson Bryant's Pond, oxen pulled 99 feet, four inches. Leslie V. Keen of East Hebron, oxen pulled 63 feet, one inch.

Oxen 7 ft. 6 in. and Under.
R. K. Morrill and son, Norway, oxen pulled 34 feet, six inches. Another of his yoke pulled 25 feet, eight inches, and another pulled 23 feet, seven inches. The oxen of C. S. Hayes of Oxford did not pull the full length of time.

STINSON'S ATHLETIC SHOW.
This exhibition of strength and skill attracted large business, especially Wednesday when several wrestling bouts were staged by a local man as a strong feature.

Three wrestling athletics with a State wide reputation appeared under this canvas. Freddie Gurney of Waterville, middle-weight champion of the State; Hack-ensmith, a German welter-weight at 175 pounds, champion of New England and Billie Miller of Boston, light champion wrestler of 138 pounds appeared. The female athlete had an open challenge to meet any man of her weight, but would accept a woman contestant regardless of weight. So far as could be learned, no lady came forward to accept her offers. Bert Truman of Norway, figured conspicuously with the outfit during the fair days. He entered the ring at several shows each day and met with varying success. To stay upright on the mat for these hard times, at least Bert considered it in that light, and gave a bang up exhibition of strength against trained skill. The bouts proved fast and gave the local man's friends an opportunity to shout their enthusiasm.

HARKEN BACK ON THE PAST.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO THIS WEEK.

The Cattle Show commenced Thursday noon this week on account of rain. M. M. Phinney, wife and four children, of Loviston, formerly of Norway, have gone to Reiland, San Bernardino County, California.

James L. Parker, elected sheriff at the last election, will move from Stonehedge to Norway. He will make his headquarters at the Elm House.

Twenty-four Years Ago this Week
H. Hurd and Frank Hurd and H. H. Hosmer have formed a Wild West show and are operating on the fair grounds. They covered themselves with envy and glory at the Maine State Fair last week. Forty-ninth exhibition of the Cattle Show this week. An eight column report and the award of premiums.
W. A. Pidgeon of the Lewiston Journal did not attend the fair this year.
Six thousand children's tickets were sold on Wednesday.

Bert Hosmer, 9 years old son of H. H. Hosmer, won the running race and purse of $20.00, also a gratuitous subscription of about that sum.

NORWAY AND VICINITY.
BREACH OF PROMISE CASE.
Prominent Citizen Charged with Trifling with Widow's Affections.

For some time, it is alleged, one of our citizens has paid more or less attention to a young and beautiful widow of this town, forgetting, or at least neglecting, the advice of the immortal Mr. Weller, to "beware of the widowers." Now he claims that he was not attached to her, but however that may have been the widow became attached to him, and as he seems to have lost interest in the matter, she has attached herself to him, which does not enjoy.
The result is that he finds himself the defendant in a first-class breach of promise case and his questionable attitude toward the widow will be given airing in the near future.
The parties in the case are so prominent that it is feared that no court room will hold the vast crowd, desirous of attending the trial, so it will be held in the Norway Opera House on Wednesday evening, September 29, under the auspices of the Epworth League of the Methodist church, for whose benefit the proceeds will be devoted.
In other words, it will be a Mock Court Trial, and it promises to be one of the most enjoyable affairs of many years, and will participate in the proceedings.
The committee having the trial in charge have engaged Col. A. V. Newton, the well-known lawyer lecturer of Worcester, Mass., to attend to the details and personally conduct the entertainment.
Col. Newton has had remarkable success in conducting similar entertainments and without doubt the breach of promise trial will be here, as elsewhere, an event long to be remembered with pleasure.

Some Big Black Bass.
Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Weyland of Allen, N. J., have been fishing in the lake with M. W. Sampson, guide. They got several 20 fish one day. The largest weighed three pounds and eight ounces and several at two pounds each.
A few.
Mr. Weyland has fished in many of the famous bass waters of this State, but none equals this catch he made here.

The September 16th meeting of the W. R. C. 45 will be omitted. A special meeting will be held on Thursday evening, September 30th at 7:30 o'clock. This meeting is called for general work also to prepare for inspection which will be held in the near future. Will all the members make an effort to be present?
S. B. Cummings, wife and children and Mrs. E. S. Cummings and son, Elliott Staples, have been at Bemis, Me. for a few days this week. They returned in season to visit the Cattle Fair.
Captain E. G. Schwartz and wife will move from their summer home by the Lake, the last of this week. They are undecided as to staying here this winter or going to Baltimore, Md.
Guests at E. E. Wit's Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Amos F. Chase of Lynn, Mass. and G. O. W. Perham and family of Woodstock.

E. F. Bicknell lights his store with kerosene and we are told he is the last trader on the street so to do, Allard & Moulton having recently put in electric lights.
P. B. Walker, J. E. Thompson, J. F. Irish, Ralph Hurd and Winifred Brown of Lovell attended the Fair last Tuesday. Walter Smith finished work for M. W. Sampson Monday morning.
Mr. Smith has been running the boat on the lake during the season. The Hartford Girl, the largest public boat, has been taken from the water and put in the quarters. It is rather interesting to note that the water in the lake was higher when the boat was taken out than when it was put in, in the spring.
Emma Smith returned to her home in the village Tuesday afternoon, the summer at her cottage, Tanglewood at the lake.

A most interesting house being filled with rare old china, furniture, etc. Mrs. Kendall has relatives in Colorado and while she will probably spend a part of the time in Washington it is quite possible that she will spend the greater part of her visit in Colorado. Mrs. Kendall will be remembered as a Norway girl daughter of the late Horatio G. Cole.

RACES TUESDAY.

The first day is always a small one for all concerned and the racing attendance was no exception. Less than three hundred secured seats in the grand stand and probably the fence during the two races which were on the card for the afternoon show. The Lewiston Bridgehead opened with a concert of unusual merit and dispensed a generous supply of excellent music during the whole program. In the judges stand, Isaiah Morrill of Brunswick officiated as starter. Frank Richardson of Norway, T. P. Richardson of Norway and W. H. Kilgore of North Waterford were the judges. Thomas Thibodeau of Norway; Irving Thibodeau of Medford, Mass., and Dr. Harry Watson of South Paris were clerk. By W. Clark of South Paris was waived in agreement the distance was waived in both races so no red flag was used. The racers had a large field and broke scrappily except at times when a break broke up the combination.

This last race proved the best thing on the track. The field was large and it was a fight to the finish. At the end of the third heat Dexter R. and Babe Himore were ruled out for not coming within halting distance of the money.

THE RACES WEDNESDAY.
Old Sol with his sizzling rays just drove the wilted multitude into the big grand stand where protection could be found against the heat. The great anticipated picture witnessed from the grand stand. Three races were on the afternoon card and they proved good. Ideal horse racing weather prevailed and the track was never in better condition. Consequently that heat was hotly contested, to the satisfaction of all who enjoy good sport. The afternoon officials were as follows: Starter, Isaiah Morrill, Brunswick; Judges, W. H. Kilgore, Waterford; Charles Crosby, South Paris; Frank Richardson, Norway; Timer, Irving Thibodeau of Medford, Thomas Thibodeau, Norway, D. W. Scribner, Clerk, H. P. Andrews, Norway.

The association furnished two special features between the heats. The well-known movie tonic advertising car did a fast mile in one minute and forty-one seconds. James F. Curran of Lewiston, the sport promoter introduced a novelty in the form of a motor cycle, five mile race. There were five contestants, namely: Turner, Smith, Peacock, Clark and Hodge. The race was a corker, especially between Turner and Smith, who fought gamely for first place. Smith had the lead for four miles, but Turner squeezed him out and won in seven minutes nineteen and one-half seconds. Several times the racers barely missed a mishap with the fence, so on the whole this new attraction proved a real thriller.

HAVE YOU WEAK LUNGS?

Do colds settle on your chest or in your bronchial tubes? Do coughs hang on, or are you subject to throat troubles?

Such troubles should have immediate treatment with the strengthening powers of Scott's Emulsion to guard against consumption which so easily follows.

Scott's Emulsion contains pure cod liver oil which peculiarly strengthens the respiratory tract and improves the quality of the blood; the glycerine in it soothes and heals the tender membranes of the throat.

Scott's is prescribed by the best specialists. You can get it at any drug store.

KIDNEY RELIEF

Depends Upon Good Digestion.
The Right Treatment.

Kidney disease is caused mainly by dis-ordered digestive organs (the stomach, liver and bowels). If your stomach is upset, indigestion follows; then kidneys become clogged with impurities; the blood is made impure and poisons the whole body.

Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy not only helps the stomach, liver and bowels to act right, but it acts directly upon the kidneys, as well, cleansing and strengthening them.

Do you have pains in the back, brick dust deposits, scalding pains, swelling around eyes, constipated bowels, drovial
mass, fever, rheumatic pains, indigestion?
Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is the medicine you need; powerful, though gentle in action. Write Dr. David Kennedy
Co., Rondout, N. Y., for free trial bottle.

IF WORRIED ABOUT YOUR CHILD

Do as this Mother did

Frail, weak children need watchful care. If your child is sickly, it needs good care more than coddling. Give lots of nourishing food, keep the child outdoors as much as possible, and see that all the habits are regular. "L. F."
Atwood's Medicine does frail children
a world of good. It is good for constipated bowels, helps along the appetite, acts as a tonic and improves the general health. This mother says so:

Spruce Head, Maine.
I have used "L. F." Atwood's Medicine ever since I was a little girl. I have a family of small children now and keep it in the house
all the time. I think it a very good medicine for children or older people.

Mrs. GRACIE ALLEN.

in every family.

on the spacious piazza where the view of the distant hills and mountains was inspiring. Some of the ladies visited "the ledge" and enjoyed the fine view from that point. The time was passed in informal and pleasant conversation and all too soon the hour for separation came.

Mrs. Stuart presented the ladies with beautiful astors from her large bed of many hues.

Drowned in Long Lake.

Knocked overboard by the fly-back
when attempting to crank the engine his motor boat, and drowned? was the opinion of medical examiner, Dr. George L. Geer of Portland when called to investigate the death of E. C. Kellogg, 25, employed as a carrier and messenger at summer camps. Kellogg's body was found in water scarce Lake, by W. P.
Smith, Albert Edgcomb and George P.
Carsley, who dragged the pond in the vicinity of the place where his empty boat was found floating after cries for help had been heard from shore.

Kellogg, who was only a summer inhabitant here and who lived in Wyoming, N. J., attended a corn roast on this side of the lake. He walked down to the shore after the party with Lillian Dyer and Dorothy Dyer. Shortly after he had said "good night," and put out onto the pond in his boat, they listened
in vain for the buzz of the motor engine.
Then they had heard cries for help quickly repeated several times and all was still.
The girls summoned some of the cottagers, who after waiting about a few minutes found the empty boat.

When the body was found the next morning, a lantern was still tightly clutched in one hand and there were bruises over one eye and a cut over the hip. It is thought Kellogg was holding the lantern when he tried to crank his engine. The lungs were full of water, showing that death resulted from drowning.

STROLLING ALONG MIDWAY.

The midway presented an unusually busy appearance this year as it was better arranged than in previous years. It commenced from the hall and extended down around the eating houses curving around and extending to the cattle sheds giving a long sweep. Into this thoroughfare came the main line from above the large gate. Another midway started at the large gate and ran down toward the cattle shed to the right of the other line.

All kinds of fairs' tents were represented, including eating places of all kinds, mostly frankfort, candy and soft drinks "on the inside." A variety of games of throwing the rings were there where the successful thrower won a prize. Many of these places gave teddy bears, dolls, clocks, watches, jewelry, etc.

Along here were also many games of ten pins, bowling alleys, striking machines and games where you hit the nigger and get a cigar.

A. E. Shurtleff of South Paris opened up a booth where Shurtleff's ice cream was on sale, also a larger booth where soda was served also ice cream and soft drinks.

J. Lamb and wife of Oxford had a booth where lunches and ice cream were sold. Hyman Klein and wife of Norway sold a variety of sweaters and clothing. O. W. Spencer of Old Town, a regular visitor of the fair for 18 years, occupied about the same place as in the past few years. He is the man whose specialty is candy making in view of all the patrons. Aside from home-made candy he sold soft drinks, frankforts, etc. He was assisted by George Spencer, Gertrude Kelley and George Poutillott.

Among other eating places on the midway was Turner's Saratoga Stew House, where every nameable stew was served. Another very similar, where all kinds of Steves were served was Bowman's Stew House.

Mr. and Mrs. George Swift of Norway, had a booth and sold ice cream, cold drinks and frankforts.

Charles P. Kimball and wife of Norway were there with their line of combination watch fobs and grip nates. Archie Swift of Norway sold ice cream, frankforts, cold drinks and cigars. He was assisted by Peter Klein and Theodore Hove of Norway.

G. W. Foster, who runs a series of eating booths and candy and soft drink tents, was at the head of the midway. Foster's eating places have been noted on the grounds for a number of years.

An interesting place for the farmer was A. W. Walker & Son's large tent at the head of the horse show. Here a line display of farming implements were on exhibition, all set ready for use. The Mogul engine was working and attached to it was a generator which provided electricity to illuminate the tent. The engine was good sized and run very smoothly. The Empire Mechanical Milkier was in running order with a small engine. Among other implements noted was a low 20th Century manure spreader, a John Deere manure spreader, a set of heavy Webber cart wheels, disc harrows, heavy harrows, an Osborne corn binder, Deering new ideal mowing machines, the Iron Age Pivot wheel riding cultivators, corn planters, spring tooth harrows, the Empire cream separator, the blue bed cream separator and other International Harvester Company implements for labor saving for the agriculturist. The electrical exhibits were in charge of R. D. Long, electrical contractor of Bethel. Mr. Long makes a specialty of power installations and lighting plants.

The E. E. Wentworth corporation, distributors of the Overland cars had an interesting demonstration in a large tent near the race course. This free feature attracted a large crowd.

AMONG THE EATING HOUSES.

The man, woman or child who attended the Oxford County Fair this year and went home hungry, has no one to blame but himself, for never has there been a larger number of eating places with a greater variety of things to eat.

Down Eating House Row were found about the same people as for the past few years. The first in the line was the South Paris Congregational Church booth in charge of Mrs. James S. Wright, president of the Ladies' Aid. Here was served cold roast pork, baked beans, sweet and Irish potatoes, ice cream and cake.

The Norway Congregational church booth was in charge of Mrs. E. P. Jones, Mrs. George W. Holman and Mrs. J. J. Stearns, assisted by the ladies of the church and parish. The menu consisted of cold roast beef, cold ham, cabbage salad, baked beans, brown bread, pies, were served.

The South Paris Methodist booth served breakfast, dinners and supper, and among the things served were cold ham, baked beans, salads and pies. Mrs. S. C. Ordway is president of the Ladies' Aid and was assisted by the ladies of the church.

E. E. Twitwell and Ai O. Twitwell of Oxford served meals in their usual booth. Here they served baked beans and oyster stew. The Twitwells were assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Edwards of Norway and Mrs. John Ordway of Oxford. This booth has been enlarged about one-third, giving a better seating arrangement. Mrs. Twitwell has been located here for the past twenty-five years. E. E. Twitwell who has been on the grounds during the fair for twenty-nine years past. This year he had his fair wagon on the grounds and sold fruit. He made a specialty of grapes and at the opening of the fair had 1000 baskets.

The Universalist Good Cheer Society of South Paris served cold meat, baked beans, salads and pastry. Grace Thayer is president of the society. The pies for the society were all prepared and then taken to the Paris Home Bakery and cooked in their large oven.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Lovejoy of Paris who have run an eating place on the grounds for 19 years occupied their house as usual and served all home cooking including roast beef, oyster stew and all kinds of pies, cakes and cookies. Meals were served at all hours. They were assisted by Annie Wheeler, Mrs. Lilla Fox, Jessie Ducey, Ira Allen, Clayton Lovejoy and wife and Mrs. Charles Wentzel.

"Hotel Devey" run by Wellington Twitwell and wife served roast beef, roast pork, roast lamb, oyster stew, sweet corn, squash, pickles and pies of all kinds. They were assisted by H. H. Twitwell, P. W. Twitwell, Henry Judkins, Mrs. A. G. Hayes of Lewiston, Sadie Boyser of Oxford, May Fox, Lewiston, Elsie Strout Minot, Hattie Rowe of Oxford, Adelle Hill, Norway, Percy Twitwell and Mrs. H. J. Llewellyn of Portland. Clemens' orchestra of Lewiston furnished music each day during the noon meal.

The counter was in charge of Adman Daniels and daughter of Oxford where ice cream and fruit were sold.

THE E. H. FELLOWS SHOWS.

The E. H. Fellows shows were with us again this year, bigger, better and busier than ever. They occupied a conspicuous place along the midway being the only big attractions on the grounds. This combination of winners include the merry-go-round, circle saw, ferris wheel and the Panama canal. A mechanical novelty. Everything was freshly painted and appeared as bright as a new dollar, new organs rendered new music much to the delight of both young and old, who gave each attraction liberal patronage. Mr. Fellows firmly believes in giving the public nothing but clean sport, but to do this properly every machine must be kept in the best possible condition, requiring an outlay of several hundred dollars each year. Another noticeable feature was the absence of rousting or cheapness among the attaches of the shows, so common with traveling carnivals of this kind. Each member proved quiet and courteous in every way, winning favorable comment from all who noticed this commendable fact.

Manager Fellows believes in expansion so gave us this year an electrical working model, termed "The Panama Canal." This exhibit showed in a general way the processes of canal construction carried on within the western hemisphere. There were dredges, steam shovels, donkey engines, railroad trains and miniature working men, busy doing their part of the gigantic enterprise. Coal barges and steamers occupied the finished ditch, where real water carried out the illusion. Above all on the height of land was the city of Panama with its main thoroughfare animated with a automobile, taxi, traction engine, even the primitive bullock cart appeared often in the street scene. The United States canal officials headquarters surrounded the exhibit. The stars and stripes completed this instructive exhibit. Owing to a misunderstanding the new tent and pictorial banner which will be used with this show was not completed in season for the county fair, so that the tent best was substituted, merely side walls without a top.

Owing to the bad weather conditions that have prevailed over the Eastern States, during the past four months, caused Mr. Fellows' to hold back his new merry-go-round from the road. So the youngsters must wait until another year for this long promised ride on the most expensive and thoroughly equipped machine in the country. This new riding device was built to order by the Philadelphia Toboggan Company from plans furnished by Mr. Fellows and is the last word in carousels. There are plate glass mirrors, expensive decorations, nickel trimmings, prancing horses and wonderful chariots. An independent dynamo and motor furnished the motive power, and lighted one thousand electric globes for a night display. The whole outfit can be packed snugly in the regulation circus wagons and transported over the country on flat railroad cars. The owner has a ten-year lease from the city of Montreal, dated January 1, 1915, giving him the right to set up within its limits and can operate 365 days each year during the period if so disposed.

The shows carried as usual a complete camping outfit set up on the space within the race track. They had up-to-date meal and sleeping quarters, clean and sanitary, so live a regular out-of-door life during the hot summer months. A complete list of names of the members of this happy family and their future bookings can be found in another column.

AROUND AND ABOUT.

O. W. Spencer of Bangor, the candy man with a record of eighteen consecutive seasons at this fair, was here again this year occupying the same spot. Mr. Spencer is a practical candy butcher and passes out an article that never fails to please the sweet tooth. His assistants were Geo. Spencer and Miss Spencer of Old Town.

James A. Tucker of Norway, conductor of a portable barber shop near the main gate and did a thriving business during fair week. Mr. Tucker holds the record of being the first "shaver" to occupy space for a public shop on Oxford County fair grounds. Undoubtedly the convenient feature will become a permanent fixture hereafter, owing to the large patronage of fakers, horseman and other temporary residents.

W. W. Kerrigan of Portland occupied a soft drink stand on the lower midway. Just thirty-two years ago this veteran commenced coming to our fair, dispensing several wagon loads of fruit each year. He stated to the Advertiser that in the early days a dozen fakers made up the midway and a tiny merry-go-round carrying four cars and turned by hand proved the feature amusement of the fair.

There were no spacious grand stands in those days, but a small uncovered bleacher near the spot where the pulling is now carried on, with a weather beaten shack for the race course officials across the track, comprised that part of the association's progressiveness. Mr. Kerrigan also has a long record at the "World's Fair" and at Fryeburg.

Linwood Flint of Waterford, well known as the Barnum of Oxford County was here as a visitor this year. The wild animal show is not on the road, but the light hearted professor, still follows the fairs and greets his many friends with the usual glad hand.

E. H. Fellows owner and manager of the E. H. Fellows Shows is a striking example of a self-made man. Thirteen years ago this gentleman started on the road with only a merry-go-round employing but four people, but with a determination to run a clean attraction based on strict honesty. Today this same man has in operation, five riding devices and one of the strongest mechanical models on the road, (the Panama Canal), the whole representing an investment of more than $25,000. He now can boast of a company numbering sixteen people with a weekly pay roll of better than two hundred dollars and an established circuit of parks and fairs covering a large part of the New England states. More than this Mr. Fellows and family have the respect and confidence of every manager wherever the shows are contracted because of this strong business motto: "Clean amusement and strict honesty."

W. E. Clifford of South Paris occupied space under the grand stand where he had on exhibition a good assortment of the Richardson Mfg. Co's, agricultural implements. The Easy Pull manure Sulky plows, the heavy tappers and horse rakes by the Worcester Co. made a good showing. Edwin Thompson of Norway with a small army of young assistants passed over the score cards during the fair. They were a lively bunch during the rush hours and handled some paper in a short time.

The hall was sprayed with white wash and disinfected and the offices also mended.

GLANCE THROUGH THE HALLS.

The halls this year have a decidedly neat and tidy appearance. The hall superintendent has in addition to the other improvements an office for his use just off from the fancy work department.

N. Dayton Bolster & Company of South Paris have a furnished room from their department store. This shows that the cut flowers were abundant. The color scheme was white, modestly trimmed with evergreen and grain.

The Norway Grange had more vegetables, fruit, canned goods and farm products and less fancy articles than usual. The better and cheese excelled and the cut flowers were abundant. The color scheme was white, modestly trimmed with evergreen and grain.

K. Kaim, who has been here several years had hand made goods and embroideries.

West Paris Grange chose lemon and white for a background and their fancy work display had much space. The campfire girls, Wa-Kolah, had some interesting indian things. There was an unaltd table of 13,295 pieces made by a West Paris Grange of South Paris had a case of cooked food that was a study. The roast pig and the frosted farm products decorated cake, also the chocolate frosted cake with their grange hall in white, outlining frosting over the wall work looking at. Fruit held the place of honor in the display. There were honey bees, busy at work. The decorations were white with pine needles and red berries.

Miss H. M. Taylor of Norway had millinery and furs from her Norway store. The fall hats were new to the ladies.

E. A. Barton Company of Providence, R. I., had a demonstration display of wonder rings.

Frederick Robie Grange of Otisfield had stars and stripes by Lillian Fox, Mrs. Lulu Tyler and Mrs. Mattie Ordway. This space was in pale pink, green and white. The pumpkins and squashes first held the notice. In with the usual fancy work and farm products was the pen work by Henry Edwards, Otisfield. A doll made of everything used in washing dishes looked happy and did not mind being looked at.

C. W. Bowker of South Paris had a case showing on a small scale, road construction machinery and tiling.

The apples and fruit were surely creditable to Oxford County this "off apple year." The Norway Fruit Growers Association had the table at the end of the hall. They had 75 plates of apples besides other fruits. This association is composed of about 14 of the larger fruit growers of Norway. They had two exhibition boxes of apples. One was the Red apple from Fred Dunn's farm. The tree on which they grew was planted six years ago and this year seven boxes of apples were picked. The other fruit was from the Herick farm, Arthur Herick, proprietor.

The children's department had results both in cooked food and fancy work that would compare well with their elders.

The burnt and wood carved work, painting by B. C. Love of North Paris was unique enough to be out of the ordinary. Mrs. M. E. Anderson of Norway had rose pedal beads in several colors.

Mattie Richards of South Paris had an Indian girl's and a white girl's head in water colors and hanging side by side they were a race study. She also had seven smaller landscape pictures. Mrs. A. D. Nellie Andrews, Norway had a beautiful oil painting of a young girl looking dreamily at a closed door in a study called "The Girl I Left Behind Me." The expression of her face seemed stunned, like one who has run up against something that can't be removed.

Mrs. H. F. Andrews, Norway, had a collection of water colors and oils, also painted china. The china set in blue was especially pleasing. The colonial picture where the two ladies were we presume searching the scripture for a name for the babe, also the young ladies had expressive faces.

The nature picture by Mrs. Nellie Powers of South Paris showed a distinctive style in painting.

Mrs. Carrie Gray of South Paris had some large covers in green burnt leather work.

There never was a larger or more varied lot of embroidery, hand made lace, knit goods, and fancy work of all kinds. The work was unusually well done, and the amount of work in this department could only be appreciated by being seen and examined.

There were a number of rugs in drawn braided and other work. Foremost among these was a drawn one by Mrs. Hannah Billings, aged 88 years.

There were seemingly more quilts than had ever been gotten together. They were of every color and the pieces were composed of every shape.

The local postmasters in this section of Oxford County run a parcel post educational display. This was in charge of P. F. Stone of Norway, with the thought of bringing the rural district closer to the market by showing them just how to pack and send bundles by parcel post.

U. S. Parcel Post Exhibit" and demonstrated the proper packing and local delivering; the C. O. D. parcel; the insured parcel (similar to registered postoffice packages); the application for farm labor blanks. How to measure packages was shown. "The length added to the circumference of the width around the widest part" will give the entire length.

Atherton Furniture Co., Randall O. Porter, manager of the Norway store had two sections, one wholly devoted to the Glenwood ranges and heaters and the other, Mrs. F. H. Richardson, demonstrated the Ward and Kurtzmann pianos and the Vindex special and El-dredge two spool sewing machines. This does away with the time honored bobbin and spooling. The McDougall kitchen cabinet.

Longley & Butts Norway, show from their store, a bath room furnished completely. A kitchen to show the plumbing. Something new is the Florence automatic water heater to heat the water in the large tank for bathing and like purposes when there is no fire in the range. Also to draw ice water from the sink faucet by hand device. They had the Richardson steam boiler for heating purposes.

W. J. Wheeler & Co., South Paris, have the Poole piano, the Pearce Cabinet, grand and the Lauter player. Berenice Nash of Norway showed the merits of these instruments.

H. E. Genthner of Glendon had the Brewster piano and an Armstrong player. Mrs. William French in charge.

The Star Engraving Co. of Attleboro, Mass., sold a variety of jewelry and engrave your name or initial while you wait. Another similar concern was the Steven & Allen firm from the same city, though they aver they are a different company.

The Paris Home Bakery had a bevy of bright girls selling their white satin bread and cakes in boxes.

Mrs. H. S. Farrell of New York was here last year and must like our fair for the same again. She sold French all-gree hand-made pins. Mrs. C. A. Lawes of New York sold hand made feather flowers that are surely as brilliant as any flower that ever grew.

Mrs. F. S. Farnum of West Paris served lunches, coffee and ice cream.

The United States Separators and the DeLaval separators were also shown.

The West Paris Grange was under the management of Mrs. Charles Stevens, Mrs. Dana Grover and Mrs. Oscar Peabody. The Paris Grange was under the management of Mrs. A. M. Ryerson, Mrs. Annie Wheeler, Mrs. Hattie Bailey and Mrs. Florence Hicks. The decorator here is Winslow Thayer. The Norway Grange was under the management of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Dunham, Jols Abbott, Edward Packard and Mrs. Eva Jackson decorator.

The floral display was fine. Mrs. L. M. Tufts had a large collection of cut flowers, pansies, sweet peas, asters, phlox, dahlias, petunias and many other varieties. Mrs. Webster Kilgore had three staves filled with cuttings of all kinds. Mrs. W. L. Caldwell, South Paris, also had a small display of flowers, several kinds of dahlias, sweet peas and gladioli.

In the vegetable department was a good display of practically all vegetables grown. W. H. Porter, 93 years old, had a fine assortment of field and garden vegetables; Mrs. Guy Swett, C. A. Stearns, Oxford; J. B. Fields, South Paris, had equally good exhibits. In the best assortment of field and garden vegetables for boys under 18 were Richard W. Wood of Norway, Warren Knightley of Norway, age 13; Ralph Watson, Norway, age 16; Bertie Wheeler, South Paris, age 12; E. W. Cummings, Bonny View Farm, Paris, had a nammoth squash. W. C. Ask Any Sickie Smoker Why

He sticks to Sickie plug and slices off each pipeful as he needs it.

Real tobacco flavor depends upon the leaf being preserved in its natural state, possible only by pressing the leaves into plug form and keeping it in by covering it with a natural leaf wrapper. The natural flavor and strength of tobacco escape when cut or granulated.

Take a Plug of Sickie that is even thoroughly dried out so that when you whittle it off it crumbles into dust, but it will burn and smoke smooth and cool as it has all of its original tobacco flavor preserved, unevaporated in Plug Form.

Whittling a pipeful is little trouble, amply repaid by both quality and quantity. Try this experiment and judge for yourself.

Stickney, who for thirty-five years was the friend and co-worker of Mrs. L. M. N. Stevens. Growing up in the home where the principles of the W. C. T. U. were always familiar to her, as soon as she was old enough to understand what the W. C. T. U. stood for, she became a member of the local Union, there being no L. T. L.

When Cornelia Dow went away, it was Mrs. Stevens' wish that Miss Stickney might take the place left vacant by Miss Dow as corresponding secretary, and at the next State Convention Miss Stickney was elected and has worthily filled the position since that time.
